OGDEN AND IN CELEBRATION

Completion of Ogden-Salt Lake Highway to Be Signal for Jubilee

Ogden will take a prominent part in the celebration which is to be held following the completion of the Ogden-Salt Lake road, according to an announcement made this morning by Mayor Frank Francis. A large delegation from the city will attend a meeting to be held in Kayville Thursday evening at which time the celebration will be planned and a date decided upon. Members of the city commission, county commission, representatives of the Ogden Chamber of Commerce and many civic organizations will be present at the meeting, Mayor Francis said.

LAST OF CONCRETE
It is expected that the last of the concrete will be poured tomorrow night, according to word from Kayville this morning, and the road will be entirely open a few days following. The celebration will probably take place about August 1.

A has been named in Kayville to promote interest in the celebration and invitations have been sent to all cities and towns along the road asking that representatives be sent to the meeting.

The invitation received by Mayor Francis follows:

At a special meeting at the Kayville Commercial club held Thursday evening, July 15, the undersigned committee was appointed to take up the matter of celebrating the completion of the hard surfaced highway, connecting Salt Lake and Ogden through Davis county. This highway, the first in the Intermountain region to connect two principle cities of a state, will be completed and open to traffic within the next thirty days, and it seems fitting that the event should be celebrated in a manner appropriate to the occasion. This committee, realizing that the completion of this highway is an achievement which the whole people rejoice in, an achievement which, to a very great extent the people of Salt Lake, Davis and Weber counties have put over, should be celebrated jointly, and respectfully suggest that such a celebration be held at a point in Davis county along this hard surfaced road. With this end in view, the committee has decided to ask the municipal corporations, commercial bodies and booster clubs of Salt Lake City and Ogden to join like organizations in Davis county in arranging for such celebration. For this purpose a meeting will be held in the Kayville Opera House, Thursday evening, July 22, 1920, at 8 p. m., and your body is earnestly requested to send representatives to this meeting and take an active part in arranging for the proposed celebration. Just what form the celebration should take will be left for this representative meeting to determine, and we hope your association will be on hand with a large number of live wires.

Feeling that your association will be pleased to join us and take a leading part in celebrating this greatest of all achievements in the history of our respective counties, we await your favorable reply.

Thursday morning the case of Charles Connelly, charged with the theft of an automobile will open. Connelly is alleged to have stolen a car belonging to O. W. Owens and on June 5 to have started for the Pacific coast in company with another man. North of Tremonton the men are said to have crashed into a large rock, where the car was damaged. Connelly is said to have walked to Tremonton, where he was arrested. The officers declare he told them that his companion had the car and he was simply a passenger. IT IS HOTTER IN SALT LAKE

Swimming Pool Does Land Office Business as Old Sol Does His Best

While Ogdenites swabbed their perspiring brows yesterday and cast all conversation aside to remark, "Gee, ain't it hot?" they would have laughed with glee if they knew that Salt Lake was four degrees hotter. And this is the truth.

Even when those in the downtown districts thought the thermometer was certain to burst if any more pressure was applied, the mercury had only reached 96 degrees officially. In Salt Lake at the same time the colored liquid stood at 100 degrees with no cooling breezes to bring relief.

No, yesterday was not the hottest day of the year. It came within one degree, however, of equalling the season's high mark, which was 97 degrees on July 9.

The intense heat of the past week has brought a great rush to the cooling waters of the South Washington park swimming pool and at times the gates have necessarily been closed when the pool was filled to overflowing. Swimmers, according to Commissioner Chris Flyvare, Record-breaking crowds have been taking advantage of the pool since its opening. It was said, and grown-ups as well as the kiddies seek the cooling waters.

In spite of the sweltering heat of yesterday there were no reports of sun-stroke or cases where persons were overcome with heat. Small babies suffered, it was reported, and in a few cases medical attention was necessary.

LEWIS AND FERGUSON IN EXCELLENT SHOW AT UTAH THEATRE

"Burning Daylight," a screen version of Jack London's novel, was produced last night at the Utah theatre, with an all-star cast that included Mitchell Lewis, Helen Ferguson, Louis Morrison, William V. Moon, Edward Gibson, Gertrude Astor, Alfred Allen, Arthur Edwin Carey, Newton Hall, Robert Bolder and Aaron Edwards.

The opening scenes, showing the gold stamped in the Yukon, centering about the Tivoli dance hall, with its turbulent atmosphere of elemental passions, form a striking contrast to the developments in the latter part of the photodrama where in "Burning Daylight" fights the giants of Wall street in their own field, the stock exchange.

Mitchell Lewis plays Elam Harnish, known in the Yukon as "Burning Daylight," with a wide sweep of forceful characterization. Helen Ferguson appears as Nora, the adroit forward little heroine who saves "Burning Daylight" from moral deterioration when he becomes involved with the tricky thieves of finance in New York. The girl's father a lawyer, known as "Old Necessity," because necessarily knows no law, was played with magnetic charm by William V. Moon, and Louis Morrison gave a memorable performance as MacDonald, the big-hearted, fighting owner of the Tivoli. The comedy on this program is the best we have seen yet. All who appreciate a real high-class entertainment should not miss this.
